

Visualizing Algebra

One aspect of algebraic reasoning involves the use and interpretation of graphs. Take a look at the following representations.

What are some things that we can conclude from looking at the graphs? Think about questions that come to your mind as you study them carefully. Make a list of all of your conclusions.